Back to Your Mountain [Em, 119 bpm]

[Jeremie Tremblay, Brad Saunders]

Intro

Intro, V, C, V, C, B, C, Outro

Em C G D Verse 1 People are crying to Yah, but cannot obtain People are trying as before, but their efforts seem in vain The multitudes desire, just to be made whole The only difference through the years is that we're all getting old Take us back to your mountain, where we all ran away We approached the voice, but were unable to stay So we went far off, could not bear to listen Our hearts they did melt from the sounds, sites and visions wohhh ooo wohhh ohh ooo wohhh the sounds, sites and visions wohhh ooo wohhh ohhh ooo wohhh Chorus x4 Baruch atah Adonai Eloheinu, melech ha'olam Yeshua malki Verse 2 C Em G How can we learn to hear your voice, how can we learn to stand Overcoming does not happen because we think we can These forces are greater than us, give us strength beyond our own We know you understand our weakness, but we feel alone Your covenant on stone, has displayed that we're weak As a teacher it taught us, blessed are the meek A new covenant we embrace, now that we may draw near To a voice from the heavens that casts out every fear wohhh ooo wohhh ohhh ooo wohhh that casts out every fear wohhh ooo wohhh ohhh ooo wohhh

Back to Your Mountain - Intro, V, C, V, C, B, C, Outro

Chorus x4 Baruch atah Adonai Eloheinu, melech ha'olam Yeshua malki Bridge C G Em D From the voice at the mountain, that was recorded on stone Now from this day forward, I am never alone The blood of messiah, brings the covenant new D Now your laws on my heart and your law it is truth Chorus x4 D Em Baruch atah Adonai Eloheinu, melech ha'olam Yeshua malki Outro Em C G D